Bird Seed Types

Sunflower Seed	All forms of sunflower seed attract most birds. The striped generally has larger seeds. The black oil gives the birds more energy and a more consistent smaller seed and thinner shell. The sunflower coarse chips and hearts leave no hull residue.
Mixed Seed	As in past years, we are offering a customized SMRA mix . The Economy mix may be preferred by those who want to cut down on the sunflower seed to reduce the amount of hulls under a feeder. The No Mess Mix will leave practically no residue because all hulls are removed. The 2018 seed mix percentages are:
SMRA Custom Mix	10% striped sunflower 25% black oil sunflower 40% white millet 15% cracked corn 5% safflower 5% whole peanuts	SMRA Economy Mix	10% black oil sunflower 45% white millet 45% cracked corn	No Mess Mix also called Hearty Delight	50% sunflower hearts 15% hulled white millet 25% whole peanuts 5% nyjer thistle 5% fine cracked corn
Thistle (Nyjer)	A favorite of goldfinches. A special feeder with small feeding ports or a fine meshed sock is needed.
Cracked Corn	Attractive for ground feeders like mourning doves, blue jays and sparrows, and squirrels.
Peanuts	A high energy feed appealing to birds and squirrels.
Safflower Seed	Noted for not being attractive to squirrels and starlings. Cardinals and chickadees like safflower.
Suet	Particularly attracts woodpeckers, but also nuthatches, titmice, and chickadees. For this year's sale, we are offering suet mixed with seed.
